

TDDP launches India's maiden street party event property exclusively for Hip-Hop. A milestone in furthering and enabling the Hip-Hop cultural ecosystem, the Dharavi Street Party's gully swag has all the elements of Hip-Hop from rap, beatboxing, breaking and DJing under one roof.

For the grand inaugural workshop, we had the street legends, BBoy Flying Machine, the first BBoy to represent India at RedBull BC One and OG BGirl AM-B, India's first BGirl who co-founded the legendary Roc Fresh Crew.

BET THESE BITTER BARTENDERS MADE HIP-HOP BETTER

Hosting a unique charitable event to uplift the underground Hip-Hop community, Devraj Sanyal (MD & CEO, Universal Music Group India) and Romil Ratra (CEO, The A Club) made cocktails to save the day. In a contest to prove who would bag the title of 'The Bitter Bartender' both these tycoons recreated cocktail and sold them while donating 20% of the proceeds to TDDP. Selling over 300 cocktails in one night of constant cheer, the event remains the 'dopest' way to work towards Hip-Hop. Team TDDP is grateful for their innovative support.

GIRL POWER FOR THE 'COLOSSAL' WIN

Our female beatboxer Sadhana aced the finals and bagged the runner-up position at India's biggest Beatbox Championship in Bengaluru, Colossal 4.0. In her first ever battle, Sadhana left everyone grooving to her beats and made us prouder than ever. Amongst the five students who participated from the school, Faizan and Sebastian made it to the top 8 solo division. Sonu and Saravana also participated in the battle.

GROOVING WITH ALI SALMI

The students of After School collaborated with French dancer and performer of Osmosis Cie fame, Ali Salmi for his new project on exploring public spaces through the art of body movements in Mumbai. Bringing dance to unimaginable spaces, he offers people new perspectives of places in which life resonates. With his Mumbai chapter, The After School was happy to give a Hip-Hop feel to his performative art.

'GATECRASHING' JAZZ WITH HIP-HOP

Jazz and Hip-Hop sounds like a match made in heaven and with Alexander Herer and his band OXYD's collaboration with TDDP, this dream came true. While the band exposed our students to the magic of Jazz, they were stunned at our amazing in-house talent during the impromptu Jazz Hip-Hop jam. Touring with the band in Mumbai and Pune became a huge learning experience for our young artists to learn about the nature of music to transcend beyond boundaries, languages and barriers of genres. The tour ended with a power packed collaboration at FleaBazaar Cafe which left the audience mesmerized.

SPOTLIGHT

TDDP Collaborates with Dust of Soul for an Indo-Swiss Opera Hop Track

Celebrating Children's Day as Radiocity's Stars

The After School Shoots a Music Video at YouTube Pop-Up Space

