

VIVE-LA-HIPHOP AT MUSIC INC 2.0

Hosting a panel at Music Inc 2.0, the head of TDDP, Dolly Rateshwar brought forth the message that Hip-Hop is not a mere performance, but also a rich, existing cultural ecosystem that needs to be nurtured and encouraged. Moving the audience with the origin story of TDDP, she introduced our talent to the world with a special showcase performance.

Our former student turned breaking instructor, BBoy Vikram also did us proud by sharing his insights on record labels and brands capitalising on the current hip-hop wave. Vikram shared the panel with dignitaries like Varsha Patra, BrodhaV, Ankit Khanna and Arjun Sankalia.

YOUTUBE SHOWCASES TDDP AT ESCOBAR MUSIC NIGHT

In a closed-door event held in Escobar, Bandra, YouTube showcased TDDP artists among other renowned ones. Showcasing their talent and representing their hood, our own student rappers, beatboxers and Bboys left everyone in awe of their performance. Cheering among the crowd were artists like Vasuda Sharma, Ritu Agarwal along with many more popular YouTubers, social media influencers and artists. Our kids sure know how to win some hearts!

KALAMKAAR RAFTAAR SALUTES THE FUTURE OF ASLI HIP-HOP

Indian Rapper, Music Composer and Television Personality Raftaar visited The After School of Hip-Hop with his mother before Teacher's Day. While the rapper's presence inspired many budding artists from TDDP, Raftaar himself was in awe of the raw, young talent from the school. From breaking a leg to weighing in on raps, the day was a celebration of Hip-Hop through and through. The future of asli Hip-Hop as he said is here and now!

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN TDDP'S OG HIP-HOP WAY

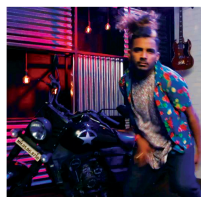

Students of TDDP stunned the crew of MirrorNow, a leading English News Channel with their lyrical responses to the question "What does Independence mean to you?" The MirrorNow team visited the school for a special Independence Day feature, the Hip-Hop way! In their special 'azaadi' ki performance, young rappers unleashed their flow on the beatboxers' tunes, while the breakdancers danced to the spins of the DJ and Graffiti artists created a stunning wall mural.

THE HOUSE OF HIP-HOP IN LUCKNOW!

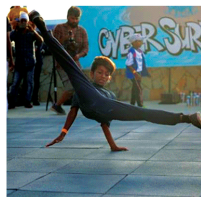

The Entrepreneurs' Organization (EO) a global, peer-to-peer network of more than 12,000+ influential business owners with 173 chapters in 54 countries, organised the KIDS RIE 2019 Grand Finale event in Lucknow. MC Heam and Afzal stunned the audience with their fiery wordplay on social issues. BBoy Vikram and BBoy Mayur broke the stage with their athletic style street dance and Beatboxers Sarvana and Akash, our human orchestra weaved magic by creating and being the music.
